By selecting a language from the drop-down menu, you will translate the Boston Region Metropolitan Planning Organization's (MPO) website into the selected language using the Google Translate online service (the Service), which is subject to applicable Google Terms of Service. The Service is made available on the Boston Region MPO's website for your convenience, and its use is solely optional. As more specifically described by Google, the Service may not accurately translate the website because of the limitations of Google's machine-generated translation. Use of the Service is not intended to replace professional human translators.

The official text is the English language version of the Boston Region MPO's website. If you have any questions related to the accuracy of the information contained in your translation, please refer to the English version of the website or contact Pam Wolfe, MPO Staff, 617-973-7141, pwolfe@ctps.org.
